

Galvanize Sheffield

Festival of Contemporary Metal
24 March – 24 April 2011
www.galvanizefestival.com

LOTTERY FUNDED

Welcome to Galvanize Sheffield 2011

Galvanize Sheffield aims to spark new interest in contemporary metal design and shed light on innovations in the manufacturing of metal products in the city. Now in its 4th year, Galvanize Sheffield 2011 will show the best in contemporary metal through a range of exhibitions and events taking place in venues across the city.

We are delighted to introduce new partners and events this year including a Silversmiths' Tea Party, a huge blacksmithing event for Easter weekend and plenty of hands-on opportunities to work metal yourself. The festival is a month-long celebration of the past and present in all things metal celebrating skills and innovation in making beautiful treasures, practical tools and powerful products.

The festival this year will pave the way for the next Galvanize in 2013, when we will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the invention of stainless steel. Visit our website and sign up for news at: galvanizefestival.com

Traditional Metal Trades Audit

As well as planning the festival, we've been busy working on an audit of the Traditional Metal Skills in the city in partnership with Sheffield City Council and the Heritage Crafts Association. We have been talking to a range of metalworkers and businesses who use traditional hand skills to produce objects in metal, focussing on where skills can be maintained and passed on for the future. See the festival website in the summer for an overview of the findings.

If you are a metal worker or metal business and have not yet received your survey, please call us on 0114 273 4427.

Graduate Commission

Sheffield Town Hall

From 30 March | Free

Michelle Clare has been commissioned to make a new silver drinking cup for the Lord Mayor to use at ceremonial events. She says "I am fascinated by the history of Sheffield's silver industry, and my work is in part inspired by the traditional hollowware produced here. I'd like the cup to act as conversation starter between people and reflect the friendliness of the city and willingness of the people to engage with one another and make others feel welcome".

With thanks to the JG Graves Trust and The Lord Mayor's Office for supporting this commission.

Something for the Garden

The Winter Garden

25 March – 24 April | Free

Something for the Garden showcases contemporary blacksmithing work by members of the British Artist Blacksmiths Association. All the pieces in the exhibition are intended to sit in the garden, either as functional items or simply to make a statement. BABA exists to promote the highest standards of craftsmanship and design amongst artist blacksmiths and this exhibition shows how contemporary pieces of blacksmithing work still make use of traditional manufacturing techniques. With items for sale.

Metal: A Photographic Exhibition

Bank Street Arts

25 March – 24 April | Free

An exhibition featuring pictures taken of Sheffield's metal industries. The show will include the work of several Sheffield photographers, including Clive Egginton who has been documenting Carrs Steelworks - one of the few open crucible steelworks still remaining. The work is hot, dirty, physical and colourless. Despite this, the world beats a path to the door of these innovative firms for their specialised products. Long may this remain the case.

Fashion Commission

Crucible Theatre, Lower Foyer

23 March – 7 April | Free

Sheffield born designer Johanna O'Hagan has seen her creations on the Paris catwalk and worn by the very top models. Inspired by the metalwork of her home town, Johanna has created a fabulous piece crafted with the help of Sheffield metalworker Brian Howard. "It's the person behind the clothes I wanted to focus on with this piece; I wanted to take away the clothes to highlight the human beneath. It's the gaps which create the form, the silences which create the melody".

In Permanent

Bank Street Arts

20 April | Free

Bank Street Arts is unveiling a special commission for Galvanize 2011: a permanent installation by Kenneth Horne that is literally integrated into the fabric of the building. Kenneth divides his time between the Centre and Wentworth Pewter in Darnall, to create and build the piece from a mix of new and scrap metal. The work, initially inspired by the contours of the corridor into which it is set, will be developed from the materials available.

GALVANIZE OUT & ABOUT

David Mellor Commission

David Mellor, Royal Designer for Industry, was a key figure in British design with an international reputation as designer and manufacturer. Born in Sheffield in 1930, he trained originally as a silversmith and his Sheffield background gave him a particular affinity with metalwork.

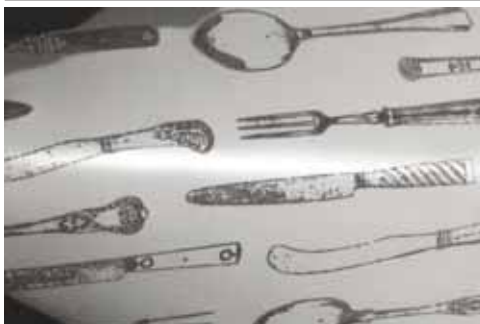

David Mellor made an outstanding contribution to design and we are delighted to partner the Mellor family in commissioning a new work from Sheffield designer and silversmith, Keith Tyssen whose work was encouraged by David since the early 1960's. Keith is designing a new product, inspired by his friendship with David, and we will be releasing more details on the festival website.

Friends & Buddies

Becoming a Friend is a great opportunity to help us commission new work from designer-makers in Sheffield and to keep in touch with all things metal in the city. We will also offer you a sneak preview of future projects and priority booking on tours, workshops and events. Inclusive in the sign-up fee is a pin badge designed and made in Sheffield by our supporters at Chimo Holdings.

Simply send a cheque for £15.00 per person made payable to Sheffield City Council to: Galvanize, Central Library, Surrey Street, Sheffield, S1 1XZ.

You have told us how much you enjoy the chance to meet other people and talk about the Festival so this year we have included a few events where Galvanize Buddies will be on hand to meet with like minded people. Look out for 'Buddy Event' in the brochure and for signage at the specified venue. No extra cost - just a chance to chat with other people who love contemporary metalwork.
