

Data Protection Notice and Privacy Policy for the culture vulture

1] Your personal data – what is it? | Personal data relates to a living individual who can be identified from that data. Identification can be by the information alone or in conjunction with any other information in the data controller’s possession or likely to come into such possession. The processing of personal data is governed by the General Data Protection Regulation (the “GDPR”).

2] Who are we? | the culture vulture is the data controller (contact details below). This means it decides how your personal data is processed and for what purposes.

3] How do we process your personal data? | the culture vulture complies with its obligations under the “GDPR” by keeping personal data up to date; by storing and destroying it securely; by not collecting or retaining excessive amounts of data; by protecting personal data from loss, misuse, unauthorised access and disclosure and by ensuring that appropriate technical measures are in place to protect personal data.

We use your personal data for the following purposes:

to enable us to continue to provide the culture vulture as a voluntary online magazine for the benefit of the public primarily in Leeds and surrounding areas, but not limited to those geographic areas;

to fund raise and promote the interests of the culture vulture;

to manage our volunteers;

to maintain our own accounts and records.

4] What is the legal basis for processing your personal data? | Processing is carried out by a not-for-profit body with a political, philosophical, religious or trade union aim provided:

the processing relates only to members or former members (or those who have regular contact with it in connection with those purposes); and there is no disclosure to a third party without consent.

Sharing your personal data | Your personal data will be treated as strictly confidential and will only be shared with other members of the culture vulture for purposes connected with the work of the website. We will not share your data with third parties outside of the culture vulture without consent.

How long do we keep your personal data? | We keep data while it is still current.

Your rights and your personal data | Unless subject to an exemption under the GDPR, you have the following rights with respect to your personal data:

the right to request a copy of your personal data which the culture vulture holds about you;

the right to request that the culture vulture corrects any personal data if it is found to be inaccurate or out of date;

the right to request your personal data is erased where it is no longer necessary for the culture vulture to retain such data;

the right to withdraw your consent to the processing at any time;

the right to request that the data controller provide the data subject with his/her personal data and where possible, to transmit that data directly to another data controller where applicable;

the right, where there is a dispute in relation to the accuracy or processing of your personal data, to request a restriction is placed on further processing;

the right to object to the processing of personal data for direct marketing and/or processing for the purposes of scientific/historical research and statistics;

the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office.

Further processing | If we wish to use your personal data for a new purpose, not covered by this Data Protection Notice, then we will provide you with a new notice explaining this new use prior to commencing the processing and setting out the relevant purposes and processing conditions. Where and whenever necessary, we will seek your prior consent to the new processing.

9] Contact Details | To exercise all relevant rights, queries or complaints please in the first instance contact editors@theculturevulture.co.uk.

You can contact the Information Commissioners Office on 0303 123 1113 or via email <https://ico.org.uk/global/contact-us/email/> or at the Information Commissioner's Office, Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, Cheshire. SK9 5AF.
